

This is a tentative suggestion of the things you can say for your iMovie profile. These things are by no means required—they are merely hints and tips to get you started. You can add information or leave anything out that you want. Remember: This is YOUR movie! We suggest you try to stay within a five-minute timeline—not too long, not too short. Also, keep in mind that you will have a written profile on the same page as your video. Be as creative as you want, and have fun!
